

Craven
1952
Dear Dr. Sockman:

(Notes for Dr Sockman)

Here are a few notes on Dr. Craven which Dr. Park read to me from "THE AMERICAN SCHOLAR."

EDWARDS PROFESSOR OF HISTORY AT PRINCETON, N J

Born - North Carolina in 1905

AB from Duke University in 1926; A M in 1927; PhD from Cornell in 1928

His dissertation for his doctorate was based on "The Virginia Company"

New York University instructor 1928 (history department)

Made Professor in 1940 and was at the University until 1950 as Professor History

Was a Lt. Colonel in the Army in the last War.

Author of a great number of books. One of them, "The Army Air Forces, World War II" important.

Other volumes on American history, and a History of Bermuda

He is considered an outstanding historian in the Colonial Field

If you have a copy of The American Scholar at your office, you'll find a complete list of his writings.

I am also enclosing some notes on Miss Swarthout and Judge Hughes which may be helpful.

In haste, but faithfully yours,

May 13, 1952
